

An Edge of Your Seat Thriller

Rita Meyers and Lisa Richards seemed like lifelong girlfriends who enjoyed spending time together and lighting up the city night scenes, but these close friends quickly turn into arch enemies when they become caught up on opposite sides of a scandal at a prestigious brokerage firm in downtown Baltimore, Maryland.

Through heartbreak, crime and betrayal, Rita focuses on justice in order to find the answers to how her friend is involved in the high profile crime. The answers are revealed as Rita Meyers, the powerful Baltimore city attorney discovers the truth about her once beloved friend.

Falling for the same man doesn't help as the women fight to keep him but for very different reasons. In the end, fate decides who is left standing on the trail of Tangled Webs.

"Reads like a love story with a touch of history and mystery; couldn't put it down."

L.A.T. contributing writer
The New York Times

"Excellent, riveting, a suspenseful, action-packed adventure. This was an absolute page turner. I could not put the book down"

J. Kyle, Author of The Book of Success

"A rollercoaster ride through the streets of Baltimore. An amazing and exciting story."

The Insight's Journal Magazine

L'Nora has been writing short stories since the age of eight. She's served as managing editor for The Insights Journal Magazine. L'Nora is a graduate of Morgan State University, Baltimore, Maryland. She currently lives in Virginia.

Cover Design:
www.colindunbar.com

L'Nora

Tangled Webs

Rita had a secret.

Tangled
Webs

L'Nora